STAINED GLASS WINDOWS

Let the light of Christ shine through you

BY MONICA EDEKER

Director of Communications

Note: The local newspapers in Allison and Clarksville include St. John's on a rotation of a dozen or so local churches that submit weekly columns for their church page. While Vilmar does not have a called minister, they still asked if we had anything to share, so I wrote the following devotional. This message ran in their July 1 issues, and since then, I've been asked to share that message here:

Once heard an analogy that a saint is like a stained glass window. When it's cloudy, the image in the glass, while it is still there, it also appears somewhat dark and gloomy. But when the sun shines through, the colors in the glass become radiant and we see the beautiful image the artist intended to create.

The same can be said of us. Our artist and creator, the Lord our God, has made each one of us unique and beautiful like a stained glass window. When we leave God's word behind and go our own ways – falling into sin and neglecting to live godly lives – much like the image in the glass, our world tends to be dark and gloomy. However, if we stay in God's word and strengthen our faith through prayer, worship, and praise, and we let Christ's light shine through us – the image is radiant, bold, and wonderful.

It sounds simple enough, and it paints a nice picture, but how do we really achieve this? The pastors in the church are teaching and equipping you and I to go out into the world with them to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We grow our faith and we learn by participating in worship each week. If we start each day with Christ in our hearts – by reading His word and talking with Him in prayer – in turn, these good actions, words, and deeds will become our habits.

But unfortunately, these Christian ways are frequently neglected in our society today. Do we just follow the norm, go with the crowds, and leave God's law behind? No. As Christians, we are to do what is right, simply because it is right. It doesn't matter if what everyone else is doing is wrong. As followers of Christ, we are to do what is right.

We are all sinners by our human nature. Though we must strive to be better, we know we will fall short. Nevertheless, as believers, we know that Christ came to earth. He was crucified on the cross. He bled and died to save us from our sins. And through His resurrection, we are saved. By our faith, we know that He paid the ultimate price for each and every one of us.

However, there are many un-churched people in the world, people who may not have the opportunity to attend a church service, who aren't able to read the Bible, who simply don't know Christ and all that He has done for us. While many of us may not have an official title of "pastor," that shouldn't stop us from ministering to them and to each other. As the body of Christ, we are to be His disciples. It might not be easy; it may be challenging and uncomfortable at times, but we are here to be an object of God's love and connect with and share the gift of Christ's salvation with those around us.

The Lord isn't stuck inside a building, a home, or a church. He is everywhere we are, and He is reaching out to us, to use us to help others. There are abundant opportunities for us to share our faith and let Christ's light shine through. We just may be the only Bible that someone ever "reads." So, I encourage you to start with prayer: talk with the Lord; lift others up; ask for healing and forgiveness; thank Him for his blessings; praise Him for his wondrous works; and ask for guidance on how you can serve Him. And then, listen for His call.

For God did not appoint us to suffer wrath but to receive salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with him. Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing.

— 1 Thessalonians 5:9-11

That call might be to volunteer for a mission trip. If you can't physically go, maybe you can offer support through financial donations. If that isn't an option, maybe you can serve by helping at a local fundraising event or leading a Sunday School or VBS class. You could bake treats for a bake sale. You can call an elderly member just to say hey, or send them a card. Maybe it's exchanging a friendly hello with one another at the store. You can offer to help a neighbor with yard work or drive them to an appointment. You can even share a Christ-centered post on Facebook or just offer a word of encouragement. The opportunities are endless, and they don't have to be over-the-top gestures. Simple kindness goes a long way, and wouldn't Christ do the same for you? Of course. He's already done that and so much more for each and every one of us.

Let's share that good news with one another. Not for glory or credit; don't seek recognition or reimbursement – do it from love. Do what is right, lend a helping hand when you can, and instead of putting others down, try lifting one another up in prayer.

With that, I challenge each one of you – be a stained glass window and allow Christ's light to shine through you in all you do. I'm sure the picture that others will see and feel from your good works will be amazing.
